Sunday 19th April – Field trip to medieval settlements in Lincolnshire

09.30	Depart Lincoln College, Monks Road, Lincoln, LN2 5HQ
10.15	Arrive Gainsthorpe deserted medieval village (DN21 4JH)	Gainsthorpe deserted medieval village is iconic as the first DMV to be photographed from the air, by OGS Crawford published precisely 100 years ago in 1925. The earthworks are stunningly well-preserved and display an unusual, enigmatic plan, whose origins, development and function we can discuss during our visit. Images © English Heritage
11.15	Depart Gainsthorpe (loo stop at McDonalds near roundabout between A15 and A1500)
11.45	Via North &amp; Middle Carlton shrunk / deserted villages (LN1 2RS)	The shrunk medieval village of North Carlton is one of three adjacent Carltons with remains of formerly much more extensive settlement in the medieval period. South Carlton is also extensively shrunk, while Middle Carlton is entirely deserted. The earthworks of North Carlton are visible in association with ridge and furrow, but the previously well-preserved stone footings of medieval buildings at Middle Carlton have been levelled by ploughing. The church of St Luke in North Carlton was almost entirely rebuilt in 1773 with the 15 th century tower the only surviving medieval feature.
12.00	Arr. North Ingleby DMV (LN1 2PQ) walk 500m to South Ingleby DMV	North Ingleby and South Ingleby are two almost entirely deserted medieval villages with earthwork remains separated by barely 200m. North Ingleby earthworks fall into two groups: 1. Around the hall and its curvilinear moat are a series of irregular closes defined by broad deeply incised holloways adjacent to traces of a former chapel set within a triangular raised platform; 2. To the east, blocks of rectilinear enclosures appears to have been laid out over ridge and furrow and are presumably later. At South Ingleby , a large rectilinear double moat near to a spread of Roman pottery lies east of another series of late medieval tofts overlying ridge and furrow. We can debate why these settlements were extended only to fail so soon
13.00	Depart South Ingleby
13.30	Arrive Norton Disney village hall (LN6 9JU)	Buffet lunch served in village hall on arrival at Norton Disney (Green Man pub will be open). Norton Disney is named from the D'Iseigny family (ancestors of Walt Disney), lords of the manor from the C13 th - 1674. Several medieval effigy tombs of Disney family members survive in the church, for whose earliest surviving 13 th , 14 th and 15 th century fabric they would have been responsible. The C18 th manor house contains earlier elements. In 2024, 25 test pits were excavated by local residents simultaneously with excavations by Time Team around the manorial site. We will tour the village and discuss the significance of finds from the excavations (viewable in the village hall) for understanding the village's development and the impact of the medieval Disney lords.
14.15	Tour of Norton Disney
16.00	Dep. Norton Disney	Norton Disney is just 8 miles from Newark; it may be possible to arrange car-share drop-offs at Newark Northgate or Newark Castle train stations for anyone wishing to take trains from those stations. Newark Northgate is on the main London line.
16.30	Arr. Lincoln
